Website

Many customers use the website to inform us of stops and starts for their newspaper deliveries. This is a very reliable way of letting us know as it is in writing and there can be no confusion on dates or addresses. Please consider this form of communication.

This is just one of the features of our website.

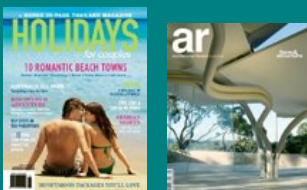

Another new feature is the 'What's New' Section. This keeps you up to date with date on what new things are happening in the shop. Check it out.

The Saturday Financial Times Will now be available here every Sunday. We are on a trial supply so if we don't sell our quota supply will cease. Delivery can be arranged each Sunday morning with the normal paper deliveries. Ask to arrange how you would like to reserve your copy – either delivery or set aside.

ACT Intellectually Disabled Basketball Team

As you are all aware we had a tin on the counter to raise funds towards sending this team to Townsville for the National Championships. The raised almost $150 for the boys thanks to the kind donations of our customers. The team is off to Adelaide in 2010 and the tin is once again on the counter for your loose change.

Important Notice

I have been saying this for a while now but we are definitely getting very close to a full change over to the new POS. It will be vital when this occurs that any customers that subscribe directly to Fairfax Media for their Sydney Morning Herald or Financial Times or to Nationwide News for their Australian or Telegraph that they notify them as well as us when they are going away and want deliveries stopped. This will ensure that both our records are accurate for when subscriptions expire.
